About Me:

I am currently on a 2-year working holiday visa, undertaking a backpacking adventure across Canada, exploring my adventurous side and seeking new experiences out of my comfort zone. In my spare time, I enjoy getting out and exploring my surroundings - hiking and trekking up the nearest big hill mostly, plus the odd bungee jump or skydive! I'm an avid skier and hope to get out on the slopes of BC one day, as I make my way across this beautiful country. After 5 years working behind a desk, I'm still seeking new experiences that challenge me in other ways. The only time I want to spend at a computer screen is when I'm working on my writing - I run a travel blog and am currently penning my third fiction novel. My enthusiasm and open-mindedness should be of benefit to anyone who hires me, and I hope I can make myself useful as I continue to learn what I'm capable of.
